Royal Mint, Sydney, 12th August, 1868.

A LARGE QUANTITY of new bronze COIN being especially expected to arrive, to replace the old copper coin of the realm in circulation in the colony of New South Wales, the following regulations under which the new coin will be issued, and old coin and tokens exchanged, are published for general information:

1. The new bronze coins, in boxes, each of £10 and £20 value, will be issued by the Sydney Branch of the Royal Mint on payment of the value every day, Saturdays and holidays excepted, between the hours of 10 and 12.

2. The old copper coin of the realm in quantities of 25 and upwards, advancing by round sums of £5, will be exchanged for the full nominal value, that is to say, one pound sterling will be paid for two hundred and forty pence.

3. In addition to the full nominal value of the coin a premium of two per cent. on the amount will be paid to persons who present to the Royal Mint a sum equal to all expenses of collection, packing, and delivery at the Mint.

4. For a period of three months, commencing on the 1st September next, copper tokens issued by any New South Wales firm which no longer exists, will be exchanged in the same manner with the same privileges as the old copper coin.

5. Tokens of the following descriptions will not be exchanged:

1. Tokens bearing the name of any New South Wales firm still in existence.

2. Tokens of other colonies.

3. Tokens circulated for the advertisement of medical preparations, &c.

4. Anomalous tokens roughly cast, and only recently coined.

5. Broken counterfeits made of brass, &c.

6. In the country districts the new coin will be issued and the old copper coin of the realm, and approved tokens, as above described, will be exchanged at every branch of the Bank of New South Wales throughout the colony.

C. ELOUIS, Acting Deputy Master.

General Post Office, Brisbane, 16th July, 1868.

B RANCH MAIL SERVICE BETWEEN BRISBANE AND SYDNEY, AND MAIL SERVICE BETWEEN ROCKHAMPTON AND TOWNSVILLE.—SPECIAL FEATURES will be received at this Office until the 29th August, for the CONVEYANCE OF ENGLISH MAILS by Steamer, but, hereafter, between BRISBANE and SYDNEY, for three years, commencing with the New South Wales Mail leaving Brisbane on or about October 7th, 1868.

The tenders to state the tonnage and horse-power of the steamer to be employed.

It will be required that a steamer leave Brisbane with the Mail for England sixty hours before the ocean mail steamer is advertised to leave Sydney, and arrive in time to tranship the Mail.

If, through want of weather, or any other cause, the contractor shall fail to put the Mail into the command of a suitable steamer at Sydney, the whole of the subsidy apportioned for that trip shall be forfeited.

A steamer to be in readiness at Sydney to receive the Queensland portion of the English Mail, and be despatched within four hours after the arrival of the ocean mail steamer, and deliver the mails at Brisbane within thirty hours.

If the contractor fail to deliver the English Mail at Brisbane within sixty hours after its receipt by him at Sydney, he will be liable to a fine as mentioned in the last clause will be enforced.

Should the contractor fail to have a steamer in readiness at Sydney, to start when the English Mail packet arrives, and thereby occasion a detention of the mails, he will be liable to a fine of one hundred pounds for every twenty-four hours the mails are so detained, or in proportion for a less period of time.

The contract will embrace the conveyance of all mails put on board, whether English, Colonial, or Foreign.

The value of the packet to be sent, and also allotted for mail, will be subject to the approval of the Postmaster-General, and no person must be allowed to access the post office which the mails are deposited.

The contractor will be required to take all risks of delay through the non-arrival of the ocean mail steamer, no claim against the contractor will be allowed.

Claims will also be received, either separately or in conjunction with the above, for the conveyance for three years, commencing on 1st January, 1869, of the Post Office mails, once every fortnight, from and to Rockhampton and Townsville, calling at Mackay (when required) and Bowen, and arriving at each of these places to deliver and receive the mails so long as the Postmaster-General shall think necessary.

The same conditions of forfeiture for non-fulfilment of contract will apply to both services.

The contractor will be given the power to terminate both or either of these contracts at any time during the three years if the service could not be performed satisfactorily, or by giving six months' notice of their intention to do so.

Claims of compensation will be similarly instalments, in accordance with Treasury regulations.

The contractor and two sureties (whose signatures must be attached to the tender) will be required to enter into a bond, in double the amount of the tender, for the due performance of the contract by the undersigned without reference to England.

LAW.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT.

FRIDAY.

Before His Honor Mr. Justice FAUCETT.

THE SILK ROBBERY AT CHISWICK'S.

George James Dwyer, Andrew Liddy, and Thomas Walker, were indicted for that they did, on the 2nd of May, last, enter into the house of George Chiswick, and steal therefrom seventy-five pieces of silk, 1000 yards silk, six pieces of velvet, 120 yards of velvet, ten shawls, and fifty-one jackets, the property of the Honourable Chiswick.

A second count charged the prisoners with receiving the above goods knowing them to be stolen.

The prisoner Smith was not arraigned, called upon to plead in his own defence. The other four prisoners pleaded guilty.

The prisoners were tried, and were defended by Mr. Fullerton, instructed by Mr. Carroll. Mr. Isaac conducted the prosecution.

The principal evidence against the prisoners was that of the prosecutor Behan, who said that on the night of the 2nd of May, he, the prosecutor, and his wife, went to the house of the Honourable Chiswick, and there found the silk, &c., mentioned in the indictment.

Henry White, who pleaded guilty to a charge of forging an endorsement to a promissory note for fifty pounds, was sentenced to four years' imprisonment in Sydney gaol, with hard labour.

John Chantrey, who pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing, and for the third offence, to one year's imprisonment, with hard labour—in all, two years' imprisonment in Sydney gaol, with hard labour.

Sarah Nairn, who pleaded guilty to stealing a gold ring, was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment in Sydney gaol, with hard labour.

James Francis Hollis was convicted of an attempt to set fire to the house of one Joseph Osmus at Karangang, and was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment in Sydney gaol, with hard labour.

Thomas George, convicted of burglary, was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment in Sydney gaol, with hard labour.

STEALING FROM THE PERSON.

Henry Verrell was indicted for that he did, on the 2nd day of June, 1867, the sum of twelve shillings, and one farthing, the property of one John Lynch.

The prisoner pleaded guilty, and was defended by Mr. Fullerton, instructed by Mr. Carroll. Mr. Isaac conducted the prosecution.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Clerical Secretary, and signed by the President.

Mr. C. LESTER presented a petition from Lieutenant Sudder, R.N., proposing for the consideration of the Synod the election of the Bishop by the clergy, and moved that it be referred to the Committee.

Mr. FOWLER seconded the motion.

The CHANCELLOR said he had previously remarked that it appeared to him this petition contained expressions at the least of a doubtful propriety, and it was necessary the Synod should very cautiously hear how the records were made of the whole from the time of its introduction until its adoption. The Provincial Synod might know clearly what were the views of the members of this Synod upon the question; but that no legislation in regard to it should take place until it had been under the consideration of the Provincial Synod.

The Rev. Dr. Tucker said he should certainly vote for the second reading of the Tribunal Ordinance. This ordinance was not, as stated by Mr. Darley, to enable the Bishop to have power to confer power upon him, to take the whole of his ecclesiastical jurisdiction in the shape of petitions. If a petition arrived a complaint or a general and scandalous, by all means let the utmost tenderness be shown with regard to its reception; but when the matter was of such a doubtful character they ought to be very careful how they received it. He would say that it should not reflect upon any portion of the Synod that it was not referred upon any portion of the Synod at all. It was simply an association of three dioceses in New South Wales for certain separate and defined purposes. Although the wording of the petition now presents itself as not of a kind to command itself to the approval of the Conference, nevertheless it was the practice of the British Parliament and other British Legislatures to receive petitions almost as a matter of course, unless there was strong prima facie objection, he was at a loss to see what possible difficulty could be in receiving that now presented.

The Rev. G. H. MORTON thought the clergy, if desiring (as he believed) might be left to put forward their own wants. Mr. JONES said that every member of the Church of England was entitled to the right of petitioning the Bishop, who was not interested in the matter, and was not competent to deal with it as the standing committee of the Synod. The present Synod was as competent to deal with the matter as any Synod could be, and it would be an insult to every member in New South Wales to refer it to the Bishop. Then his rev. friend (Mr. Palmer) in support of the views he entertained also referred to Bingham and the "Curiosities." (He then recited a few facts of his first visit to Bingham, and had turned to Bingham to see how far his rev. friend was borne out with regard to his view of these prerogatives of the episcopal office.) It appeared to him, when Mr. Palmer was quoting this writer, that Bingham, as distinguished from the office of Prelate, was not at all competent to deal with it as it stood before the Synod.

The Rev. Mr. STICK, on a point of order submitted that no member was entitled to submit a petition from himself to the Synod.

The PRESIDENT was not aware that a member of the Synod had not a right to petition.

The CHANCELLOR had serious doubts as to the propriety of a member submitting a petition from himself, when he had a right to bring forward a grievance sua sponte, and to address the Synod upon it.

There was an irregularity it was merely in the presentation of the petition by the petitioner and not as to the right of petition.

The CHANCELLOR quoted Burke's Parliamentary Proceedings to show that a member might send in a petition, but that it must be presented by some other member.

Mr. A. L. McDougall was then about to present the petition.

The Rev. Mr. STICK objected that he had not, according to rule, made himself acquainted with the contents.

The petition was then signed by Mr. McDougall, in addition to the signature of Mr. Gunther, so as to render it presented by either, but on investigation by the President, it was found to contain no prayer and therefore was withdrawn.

THE HOLY ORDINANCE.

The order of the day for the second reading of this ordinance was read.

The Rev. G. H. MORTON said he ventured to think that the subject had been brought before the Synod, and that it would be brought before the Synod again, and now occupied its attention was the most important in point of gravity. It was for the trial of clergymen, and his brethren reflected upon the solemnity all had taken upon themselves.

The oath he had taken was an oath of canonical obedience not to the see of Sydney, but to the see of Canterbury—he was properly not a Bishop of Sydney, nor of Armidale, but a Bishop of the United Church of England.

The fact was that the exact local position of the suffragan Bishops in Australia as to the Metropolitan See in these parts was something that was yet very far from determined. Regarding the right, however, of the Church in this matter, he had no doubt that the right of the Suffragan Bishops in Australia as to the Metropolitan See in these parts was something that was yet very far from determined.
